Improving Lives. Building Community.

Stone Belt has been providing innovative support and education to individuals with disabilities since 1959, making it the oldest and largest agency of its kind in south-central Indiana. Started by nine visionary families wishing to create educational opportunities for their school-age children, Stone Belt has grown to include family supports, residential programs, employment resources, life skills and vocational training, professional art studios, and clinical services. These programs enable individuals to live self-directed lives with greater significance and meaning. Stone Belt remains at the forefront of the field, pioneering essential changes and implementing programs that touch thousands of lives.

Our communities are stronger when every individual experiences success. Stone Belt embodies principles that support and empower people to achieve their greatest potential every day.

- Self-determination is essential.
- Learning creates empowerment.
- All people have contributions to make.
- Home life must be self-directed.
- Positive supports provide the best long-term results.
- Employment is a fundamental part of adult life.
- Social life and relationships create quality of life.

Corporate Giving Opportunities

Make a Positive Impact on Individuals with Disabilities

Becoming a corporate partner is a premier way to show your support for the achievements of people with disabilities. Each giving level provides unique opportunities for your company to gain exposure while impacting individuals' lives and strengthening our community. Stone Belt programs, publications, and events reach thousands of clients, their families, businesses, and others throughout south-central Indiana.

Stone Belt Events

Advocacy luncheons at Stone Belt are educational events that bring together community members to learn about important issues and ways to become involved. The luncheons typically feature a keynote speaker or panel and provide attendees with valuable information on how to get involved in advocacy. Stone Belt's advocacy luncheons are free and open to the public.

Job-a-Palooza offers job seekers with disabilities the opportunity to meet with employers from the community and learn about potential job options. It is also an excellent opportunity for employers to learn more about the skills and abilities of people with disabilities and the available resources to help them better accommodate potential employees.

Belt Out Loud! is a benefit concert supporting a great cause. This year's concert features Hank Ruff whose music combines elements of traditional country sounds with modern influences, bringing classic elements of distinctive country sound back into mainstream country music.

< Coming up this May, 13th!

Celebrated in June, Stone Belt's Awards for Excellence recognizes the outstanding achievements of five Stone Belt staff members who have excelled in their work supporting individuals with disabilities. The catered luncheon is attended by staff, major donors, and community leaders.

One of our largest events is the Annual Awards Celebration which is regularly attended by more than 500 guests in September. This event recognizes the extraordinary achievements and contributions of clients, staff, community partners, and volunteers. It includes dinner, prominent speakers, and an exciting presentation. We will once again be holding this event at the Bloomington/Monroe County Convention Center.
